3 Data collection

We collect information about you from different sources.

We collect information about you as a customer/supplier from you when you become a customer/supplier. Collection also occurs when you sign up for a product or service via us, when you contact us or use any of our digital channels (for example e-mail).

With the purpose of maintaining good customer/supplier and registry assistance, MEDIROX AB may supplement personal data through collection from private and public registers.

4 Parties that MEDIROX AB shares data with

Data may be shared with some service suppliers of MEDIROX AB, for example system suppliers and cloud based service suppliers. In these cases, the service supplier acts according to instructions from us and may not use the data for their own purposes.

We may also share personal data with authorities, including law enforcement agencies, in cases where we are obliged to do so. Such processing is necessary to fulfil legal obligations.

Personal data may also be shared with courts, counterparties and other parties involved in litigation. Personal data may be processed for MEDIROX AB's legitimate interest for establishing, claiming and defending legal claims.

MEDIROX AB may also share data with potential buyers and sellers if the business were to be sold or merged with another company. Such processing is necessary to fulfil our legitimate interest in completing the sale or merger.

5 Location for processing

MEDIROX AB processes data within the EU/EES. In the event of MEDIROX AB or a service provider of MEDIROX AB transferring personal data to a country outside the EU/EES, MEDIROX AB ensures that there are safeguards in place.

6 Storage of personal data

Your personal data is stored for as long as you are a customer/supplier of MEDIROX AB and after your agreement has ended, to the extent that the law requires it. This may, for example, regard keeping test results and agreements that show what MEDIROX AB and you have agreed upon.

Otherwise, personal data is only processed for as long as is necessary.

7 Your rights

Access to your data
